

Merchants Reaffirm Paving Cost Petition At Special Meeting

Criticize Councilmen For Failure To Act Earlier On Project

A group of 19 downtown East State St. retail merchants today reaffirmed their petition presented to City Council April 8 in which they agreed to bear 50 percent of the cost of having the street resurfaced.

Meeting for a half-hour this morning in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, the merchants again pledged their desire to bear a proportionate share of the cost of the street improvement.

Alroy Bloomberg, chairman of the retail merchants division of the Chamber, presided.

Charles Haldi, chairman of the traffic committee of the Chamber reported on the meeting Wednesday with State Highway Director S. O. Linzell and Divisional Engineer Dean R. Sever, which he attended as a representative of the merchants.

The merchants were critical of city councilmen's non-cognizance of the merchants' petition to the city on parking.

The merchants pointed out that "if action had been taken by City Council when the petition was presented, the street would have been paved by now."

State Highway Director Linzell called the meeting here last Wednesday to gain public opinion of street and highway improvements in Salem so that traffic congestion could be relieved. The meeting resulted in a promise by Linzell that he would recommend that the state bear 50 per cent of the cost of repaving the three-block section of downtown State St., the city to bear the other half.

The state officials made it clear that they would fix the street only if parking were removed.

City Council is expected to meet Tuesday night, possibly to consider state legislation on the street resurfacing.

Wheat Farmers Accept Rigid Crop Controls

Vote For Continued High Government Price Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's farmers have accepted rigid controls on next year's wheat crop in return for continued high government price supports. In doing so they eased pressure on farm-belt Republican members of Congress facing campaigns for re-election in 1954.

Incomplete but conclusive returns showed growers gave a top-heavy vote in yesterday's referendum, 338,751 to 51,487, for marketing quotas on the 1954 wheat crop. The restrictions will cut production and sales about 20 per cent from this year's 10 per cent above normal crop.

The returns showed a favorable vote of 86.7 per cent—far above the 66 2-3 per cent required and the biggest proportion ever piled up in a wheat quota referendum.

Prices Was Issue
The main issue in the nationwide balloting was next year's wheat prices. The difference in price resulting from approval or rejection of quotas could have been close to $1 a bushel, or perhaps one billion dollars on the whole crop.

Farm law requires the government to support crop prices at 90 per cent of parity—about $2.20 a bushel in the case of wheat—if farmers approve quotas in times of surplus, and at only 50 per cent of parity—about $1.22 for wheat—if they reject controls. This year's support rate is $2.21.

Parity is a price legally declared to be fair to farmers in relation to what they must buy.

Would Have Meant Drop
Inasmuch as market prices usually reflect support levels, rejected quotas could have meant a sharp drop in farm income in major wheat producing states at a time when many farm area Republican congressmen were seeking re-election next year.

In this connection, the quota approval was expected to bring further recovery in wheat prices in speculative markets. Quotations had dipped sharply late last week and early this week on private forecasts of a quota defeat. But prices advanced somewhat yesterday as farmers voted.

Chairman Hope (R-Kan.) of the House Agriculture Committee and some farm leaders had urged farmers to vote for the quotas. Secretary of Agriculture Benson maintained a hands off attitude on the ground, he said, that the agency that conducted the referendum—his department—should not attempt to influence its outcome.

Nevertheless, in approving controls, farmers saved Benson from headaches that would have followed in the wake of a negative vote.

On the other hand, the results were subject to an interpretation that farmers like present farm programs, which Benson has criticized as "inadequate" but which have been defended by Hope, Sen. Young (R-Ind.) and a number of other Republican lawmakers.

Quotas will require farmers to plant within acreage shares allotted them or lose eligibility for price supports and become subject to a penalty tax of about $1.10 a bushel on wheat sold or used from excess acres.

County Farmers Vote 24-19 For Quotas

Columbiana County wheat farmers favor government quotas on the 1954 wheat crop, 24-19, the unofficial Ohio vote shows today. The Ohio vote ran less than the national margin.

Ohio wheat farmers polled 13,014 votes for the quotas and 6,571 votes opposing the quotas. This was an average of about 66.4 per cent in favor while the national vote ran well over 80 per cent in favor.

Exact figures on the vote are not expected for several days. Other district county votes include: Mahoning, 18-7; Stark, 67-53; Trumbull, 42-8.

314 Reds, 9 GIs Injured As ROKs Stone POWs

Rhee Says He'll March North If Peace Talk Fails

ROK Leader Says Conference Has 90 Days To Succeed

SEOUL (AP)—Crack South Korean troops paraded through this battered capital today and President Syngman Rhee shouted his determination to "march north at the earliest possible time" as this war-shattered republic marked its fifth Independence Day.

In an address to thousands packed into Capitol Plaza Rhee reiterated that the post-armistice political conference has 90 days to unify Korea. And he predicted again that the conference will fail.

Rhee made it clear that unification is his goal.

The one and only standard by which the success or failure of the political conference may be judged is whether it achieves this common objective," he declared.

"Rhee said the armistice shifted the 'battle of Korea' from a military to a political field but it still remains the crucial struggle to avoid World War III.

He spoke at a giant gathering in front of the war-scarred Capitol building. At least 100,000 South Koreans lined the streets and Capitol Plaza to hear the speech directly and over loudspeakers Korean police estimates ranged as high as a half million.

After the speech, the Republic of Korea proudly paraded its military strength. Units from 16 ROK divisions marched smartly through the streets. Cadets from the army and naval academies joined the parade and a battalion of Korean Marines in full battle packs took a salute.

The small ROK Air Force sent 24 F51 Mustangs low over the parade. Big guns, tanks, trucks, jeeps, ambulances and all the equipment of modern war passed the reviewing stand where Rhee stood surrounded by foreign dignitaries, including U. S. Ambassador to Korea Ellis O. Briggs and 8th Army commander Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

"It is our wish and determination to march north at the earliest possible time to save our North Korean brethren from the sure death they are facing today," Rhee declared.

"We are destined to share with them life or death and, we are fully aware that our mental attachment and official obligation to them hardly allows us to delay their ultimate salvation another few months."

Seek To Patch Split Between U.S., England

Britain Won't Renew War In Korea If Ally Breaks Truce

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The 16 nations that fought under the U. N. banner in Korea readied another try today at patching up British-United States differences over the proposed inclusion of India and the Soviet Union in the forthcoming Korean political conference.

Delegates gathered at U. S. mission headquarters for their third private huddle on the issue only a few hours after the British government declared it was not committed to a renewal of the Korean War if the armistice were broken by any nation on the U. N. side.

The declaration apparently was aimed at South Korean President Syngman Rhee, who told a mammoth rally in Seoul today that "it is our wish and determination to march north at the earliest possible time" to achieve unification of divided Korea.

The British-American rift over the makeup of the political conference followed Britain's nomination of both Russia and India. The London government has maintained that if the world wants a real settlement Russia must be represented and it put forward India as a symbol of non-Communist Asia.

The United States has insisted that only countries which fought for the U. N. have the right to represent the international organization at the parley. It maintains this is the clear meaning of the armistice agreement.

Fails In Attempt To Swim Lake

Grandfather Turned Back By Rough Waves

CEDAR POINT, Ohio (AP)—A Brooklyn, N. Y., grandfather tried to swim Lake Erie yesterday but had to give up last night when the waves got too rough.

It was his second unsuccessful attempt. He gave up after more than six hours on Aug. 3. Coast Guard boats still were on the lookout for William Sadio, 53, today, when this summer resort received a telephone call from his coach, Pat Roach of Toronto, Ont.

The trip from Point Pelee, Ont., to Cedar Point, had to be given up before dark last night, Roach informed resort officials.

Sadio was hauled into the cabin cruiser which accompanied him, after 15 hours and 10 minutes of swimming. Then the boat put in at the lighthouse off Pelee Island, in Canadian waters.

Sadio had made approximately two-thirds of the 30-mile distance when the swim was called off. The physical education teacher at Brooklyn, N. Y., Polytechnic institute entered the water at Point Pelee, Ont., at 4:30 a.m. (EST) yesterday and estimated it would take 17 hours to swim to Cedar Point.

10 Killed, 50 Hurt In British Train Collision

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Two British trains crunched into each other atop a viaduct 80 feet over the River Irk today, killing 10 passengers and injuring 50 others.

One coach somersaulted into the river bed, landing upside down after ripping a 30-foot gap in the viaduct wall.

An emergency call went out for acetylene equipment to burn through parts of the wreckage to reach at least three persons believed trapped in the coach. The river is shallow at the isolated stretch of track about a mile from Victoria Station.

Breakdown gangs went to work almost immediately to remove wrecked coaches from the main line. Exactly how the collision occurred was not announced.

A Manchester newsmen said the trains crashed at the beginning of the viaduct where the tracks converge.

One of the first rescuers on the scene, George Crowther, who lives 10 yards from the viaduct, said he heard a "loud bang" and then saw a coach in the river.

"There were men, women and children, frantically trying to escape from the wrecked coaches," he said. "One child was walking about in a dazed condition crying, 'Mom.' One woman I helped to the ambulance said she just got out of bed after recovering from pneumonia and this was her first outing."

The crash occurred during the morning rush hour and the two trains reportedly were carrying many children. One rescue worker told of a young boy in "terrible state" with both legs crushed.

Nearby residents poured from their homes with blankets and clothing. They formed chains to supply hot water and tea to the injured scattered along the tracks. In London it was announced that British Railways inspecting officers went to the scene. The Ministry of Transport which operates the government-owned rail lines, announced it will hold an inquiry as soon as possible at a date to be determined.

Greek Quakes Dying Down

Many Nations Rush Rescue Operations

PATRAS, Greece (AP)—The terrifying series of earthquakes that visited death and destruction on Greece's Ionian islands appeared to be dying down today as air and naval forces of many nations pressed a vast joint rescue operation.

The Athens observatory reported earth tremors were continuing but it said they were only feeble rumblings. Observatory officials would not say that the danger had passed completely but they predicted there "probably won't be an immediate recurrence of this week's disasters."

As the international rescue and relief work grew in magnitude, tales of destruction and tragedy continued to pour in.

At least 40 warships from Greece, the United States, Britain and Israel standing off the three stricken islands sent a steady stream of men and relief supplies ashore. Many other smaller vessels, mostly Greek, removed hundreds of victims.

The islands of Ithaca, Kefallinia and Zakynthos were ripped by a series of shocks starting last Sunday. The quakes completely destroyed the three largest cities on the islands, partially wrecked many villages, tore up roads and left thousands homeless.

There still was no accurate count of the dead and injured, but almost all officials agreed the death toll will reach 1,000 and may be even higher. Many thousands of the islands' 120,000 residents have been injured.

Only light tremors were felt on the devastated islands today but people continued to die—some from injuries received earlier, others from fire still sweeping the port city of Zakynthos on Zakynthos Island. The blaze has raged continuously since Tuesday, the day of the strongest shocks.

Zakynthos, and Agrostolion and Lefkourion, on the island of Kefallinia, have been almost completely destroyed. They are the largest communities on the islands.

The Athens observatory said it recorded 10 more tremors—described as feeble post-quake rumblings—between 6 p.m. last night and 6 a.m. this morning. The observatory said, however, that the shocks were the lightest noted since Sunday.

Captives Taunt Civilians, Bring Hail Of Rocks

50 Healthy Americans Freed Today; Chinese Charge UN Brutality

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The U. N. Command said today South Korean civilians stoned taunting Communist war prisoners moving north for repatriation yesterday, injuring 314 Reds and nine American guards.

The outbreak of violence near Inchon brought no immediate echoes at this dusty village where 400 more Allied prisoners were freed from Communist prison.

Fifty Americans, all of them apparently hale and hearty, were among the group freed on this, the 11th day of the great prisoner exchange.

Nine others prisoners liberated earlier—eight of them seriously ill or disabled—were due at Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco today after a flight across the Pacific.

The second troopship to leave for the United States with liberated Americans was to sail from Inchon Harbor Sunday morning. Aboard the transport Gen. Hase are 437 American repatriates and other troops en route home on regular rotation. The trip is expected to take about 10 days.

Taunt South Koreans
The U. N. Command said some 3,600 Red prisoners, flaunting banners and chanting Communist songs, hurled boots and metal canteens at South Korean bystanders as they were being trucked to a rail station from Inchon Harbor.

The South Koreans responded with rocks. The U. N. POW Command said 314 Reds were slightly injured. Nine American guards also were hurt, two seriously.

Saturday's liberated Americans added to the stories of horrors in Red POW stockades. And Communist Peiping radio continued the war of words over the withholding of some prisoners.

Peiping said the Reds had protested to the armistice repatriation commission against what it called "the forcible retention of a number" of Communist prisoners due for repatriation.

The broadcast accused the U. N. Command of "brutal treatment and murder of Korean and Chinese POWs."

The broadcast said the protests were lodged Friday and that an "explicit answer" was demanded within three days.

The U. N. Command Friday told the Reds to say definitely whether they plan to withhold any Allied prisoners. The U. N. has made no mention of a Communist protest.

Saturday's group of 50 Americans was the smallest returned so far by the Reds. Fifty British and 300 South Koreans also were repatriated Saturday.

Sunday's group the Reds said.

If I Could Hear My Mother Pray Again

A railroad worker turns gospel song writer

"James Rowe, the world's greatest living song writer." That's how Composer-Editor W. B. Walbert greeted his fellow worker at the J. D. Vaughan Music Publishing Co., in Lawrenceburg, Tenn., one morning a quarter of a century ago. Looking up from his old Oliver typewriter, the jovial Englishman denied the distinction. "But," commented Rowe, "I believe I can write a song faster than anybody else." Rolling a clean sheet of paper into his battered machine, Rowe asked Walbert to give him a subject... any subject... and take out his watch and count the seconds. Musing a moment, Walbert named a subject: took out his watch. The old Oliver began clicking. Two and one-half minutes later James Rowe peeled the paper out of the Oliver. On it were three four-line verses and a chorus, all in perfect meter.

Thirty and more years ago many a revival congregation across America was left agape by a feat as only James Rowe could perform. While the congregation sang a hymn... any hymn... Rowe would compose a different set of verses for the music. Then, immediately following the

How sweet and happy seem those days of which I dream,

When memory recalls them now and then!
And with that rapture sweet my weary heart would beat,
If I could hear my mother pray again.

She used to pray that I on Jesus would rely,
And always watch the shining gospel way;
So trusting in His love I seek that home above,
Where I shall meet my mother some glad day.

Within the old home-place, her patient, smiling face,
Was always spreading comfort, hope and cheer;

congregational singing, the verse-writing song-leader would sing his original words to the same music. Little wonder estimates place the output of his pen at 9000 gospel songs.

James Rowe was born in England in 1868. After working four years for the Irish government, he migrated to New York in 1890, where he worked for a railroad for 10 years and wrote verse and magazine articles on the side. After a stretch as superintendent for a Humage Society, he devoted the rest of his life to evangelistic singing and the writing of gospel songs. Perhaps his best known is the popular "Love Lifted Me." While James Rowe was clicking out verse on his old Oliver typewriter and leaving revival congregations agape at his verse writing wizardry, Heflin, Ala.'s John Whitfield Vaughan was teaching grade school during the Winters, conducting schools in the Summers and burning midnight oil at his old upright piano to compose music for more than 100 gospel songs. It was in 1922 that John W. Vaughan composed music for this poem by James Rowe and sent it on its way to become one of the most widely sung "mother songs" written in the recent century.

And when she used to sing to her eternal King,
It was the songs the angels loved to hear.

Her work on earth is done, her life crown has been won,
And she will be at rest with Him above;
And some glad morning she I know will welcome me
To that eternal home of peace and love.

(Chorus)
If I could hear my mother pray again,
If I could hear her tender voice as then!
So happy I would be, 'twould mean so much to me,
If I could hear my mother pray again.

Confident Living

By DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Faith Can Bring You Through

Floyd Philpott is a boy from Hogsansville, Georgia. He used to work in a textile mill there and go to the Baptist Church. But although he will probably do these things again, there is something different about him now.

He has spent 702 days as a prisoner of the Communists in Korea.

Floyd Philpott was one of that first group of sick and ailing prisoners of war exchanged in Korea. When he came back home, the town turned out to greet him in front of the First Methodist Church and he made a little speech. According to the New York Times, this is what he said: "I know the Lord had to be with my body, for my feet couldn't have taken me over some of the roads I walked on."

Have you ever thought about how the Lord is with you always and how he can bring you safely through any experience? Too many of us forget it. A surgical magazine tells the story of a hard-pressed, irritable, nervous, overworked surgeon in a New York hospital ready to perform an emergency operation. He was in a hurry — there were other operations to perform that day.

THEY WHEELED IN the patient, a beautiful girl of seventeen, seriously injured in an accident. She had not been told that she was probably a hopeless case. The nurse who was to administer the anesthetic stood over her and said kindly, "Relax, breathe deeply and you'll forget the pain."

The girl looked up at the nurse, and said, "Would you mind very much if I first repeated something my mother taught me when I was a little girl? I would like to say the 23rd Psalm."

The nurse looked at the doctor, he nodded and the girl began, "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want."

The surgeon continued his preparations, but everyone else stood silent, listening. They had heard these wonderful words in church many times, but they had never sounded so moving before. Here they had another meaning, meaning of a deeper kind.

The girl went on: "... Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me..." The nurse held the cone above her to begin giving the anesthetic.

"Hold it," the surgeon said. "Let her finish." Then he spoke to the girl, "Go on, honey, say it to the end — and say it for me, too, won't you?"

THEY ALL LISTENED as her heart full of faith filled that operating room with some of the most moving words ever written. The doctor looked down at her. He was relaxed, his sense of irritation gone. There was no feeling of other duties pressing him. Patient was at peace and ready for him. Everyone in that room was lifted by the girl's faith. How could an operation performed under such conditions not be a success?

There is more and better therapy in faith than in anything else in the whole wide world. If you will fill yourself with it, there is nothing you ever need fear.

How do you fill yourself with faith? There is available to you the greatest storehouse of faith men have ever known. It is the Bible and you can take from it all the faith you will ever need. The girl on the operating table took her words of comfort from one small part of it; other parts of it helped the prisoner of war in Korea make the long marches as his comrades died all around him. Read it for yourself and you will find there the words you need to help you.

Fill your life with faith, and faith will bring you through.

French Strikes Losing Steam

Enthusiasm Waning For Economy Protest

PARIS (AP)—The long, costly series of French strikes seemed today to be running out of steam. It was still too early to say when the work stoppages might end or that there would be no recurrence—but enthusiasm appeared to be waning.

No new walkouts were announced yesterday, and a few small—but perhaps significant—breaks were appearing in the solid front the strikers put up the past week.

Although most of the demonstrators were still off their jobs, there was no way of estimating the real strike strength. Today is Assumption day, normally a holiday. The big test will come Monday and Tuesday, when the holiday weekend is over and many workers are due to report back to their jobs.

The only new strike scheduled is a one-day walkout for newspaper plant employees Monday. The unions have agreed, however, that the publishers would be permitted to shut up shop today instead of Monday if they wished.

A Communist-led attempt to spread the strike among laborers as well as civil employees apparently has failed so far. Official sources estimated that two million persons actually quit work although strike calls went out to four million. The stoppage included workers in the postal, telegraph, telephone, gas and electric service as well as railroads and coal mines.

Government civil servants also left their jobs in the huge protest against Premier Joseph Laniel's economy decrees. The government measures designed to halt the drain on France's near-bankrupt treasury included upping the retirement age of civil servants and firing surplus government employees.

Although the tension seemed lessening, there still was no indication of any abrupt break in the strikes. Trains apparently still will run only spasmodically. Long distance telephone calls will be next to impossible to make. Almost no mail will be delivered. Local bus and subway transport will be curtailed.

The government has made no move to give in or talk to any union leaders while the strikes go on.

LAUGHING POPLARS

The trees whose wavering branches droop to the earth are called weeping willows. Why not call these tall fellows, with the firm upward-reaching branches, laughing poplars?

People are like trees. Some droop listlessly under the burden of their own existence. They spend most of their days weeping.

Others stand upright and firm, undaunted by life's threatening storms. They can laugh, and their laughter spreads courage through the world.

Trees never change. The willow remains a willow; the poplar, a poplar.

But people do change. For centuries the Christian religion has been turning man's sorrow into joy, his weakness into strength.

Start worshipping every Sunday, and discover why churches are the back-bone of our civilization!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Salem Trades School

The Salem Trades Extension Classes, which had an inauspicious beginning 24 years ago, have grown in reputation and enrollment where today it is practically a trades college without a visible campus.

Local industries and their younger employees have benefited through the "vocational scholarships" which are available to workers in the various trades.

"Keep Learning" is the motto which guides the students in on-the-job training and related classroom work. In the years which followed the birth of the Salem Trades Class, now known as the extension classes, roughly 320 graduates have received diplomas to become journeymen and master craftsmen.

The vocational program is carried on through the joint cooperation of the Board of Education, local industries and the Ohio Department of Vocational Education.

Several of the sponsors who pioneered the Salem Trades program through to success are George P. Lozier and James H. Wilson, former school board members; Superintendent of Schools E. S. Kerr, Holland W. Cameron, an instructor who became a full-time coordinator of the classes in 1935; Grant Conner, then of the State vocational department, and E. S. Dawson and George Emery of the Deming Co.

The Electric Furnace Co., and Demings have supported the program from the start.

During the first class back in 1927 mimeographed sheets were used for instruction purposes. Pupils today, meeting two nights a week and on Saturday mornings, are fortunate enough to have text books and master craftsmen as instructors in the related trades.

Much credit for the success of the Salem Trades Extension Classes goes to modest, unassuming Holland Cameron, the supervisor. Mr. Cameron, who maintains an office in the High school building, has worked almost tirelessly to make the school the success that it is.

Back in the lean years of 1932 when trades schools throughout Ohio shut their doors, the Salem program kept in operation through the determination and foresight of those who pioneered its development.

The Salem Trades Extension Classes are unique in that they have the largest drafting class in Ohio and the largest apprentice training program in machine trades. In all, there are 20 instructors.

And, as the school begins its registration next week for its 1953-54 term, a new record in enrollment is anticipated. Students last term totaled 350.

The Trades School's future appears even brighter.

Death Traps

There is no real reason why the Refrigeration Trade Association of America needs to have a meeting next Tuesday to consider ways of preventing old ice boxes from becoming death traps for children.

All of the 11 children suffocated in three separate accidents in 36 hours as the result of being locked inside unused refrigerators could have been saved if adults had removed the locks from the doors.

No adult deliberately sets a death trap for a child. It is only that adults, aware of most common dangers, take it for granted that children will be aware of them too. That is why abandoned cisterns and wells are left unfilled. It is why children are killed in those tragic accidents which occur when automobiles are backed out of driveways. It is why dangerous medicines are left in medicine cabinets where children can reach them. It is why explosives are left unguarded and guns are left loaded.

The death of 11 children by suffocation in old refrigerators whose locks should have been removed will make us all a little more aware of the traps we unintentionally set for children. In the next few days, a few hundred thousand of them may be removed.

Greasing The Skids

Since there has been so much attention paid to the butter subsidy that has left the Department of Agriculture with millions of pounds of this commodity which otherwise would not have been produced, it is only fair to mention another subsidy in the same category.

When the government took inventory recently, it had enough cottonseed oil to make 571 million pounds of margarine and was under contract to purchase enough for another 20 million pounds.

This was substantially more of this commodity than the total of government-held butter, which had been only 162 million pounds on June 1, plus contracts to buy another 27½ million pounds.

The government also held enormous quantities of peanuts and soybeans, which are used to make margarine.

It is not butter alone that is greasing the skids for the practice of underwriting the manufacture of commodities for which there is no visible market. Margarine is helping.

Inertia Of Tradition

Barrier To Ruml's New Plan To Reduce Taxes

Beardsley Ruml, the man who sponsored the pay-as-you-go income tax plan which Congress adopted, has come to town with another interesting idea.

It is as simple as this—the government should set up its books just like any other business. It should not consider as expenses each year the amounts it spends annually for long-range capital investments.

If such a system were adopted, about $12 billion could be transferred from the present budget to a capital budget and thus a realistic balance could be achieved as between current outgo and income. Curiously enough, if American businesses were permitted to do what the government now does—it classifies all spending even for capital purposes, as expenditures—there would be a deficit in almost every growing company in America, and few businesses would ever pay any income taxes on profit. There wouldn't be any.

Thus, if the American Telephone Telegraph Company borrows $500 million for new plant and equipment to give better telephone service, that whole sum is never classed as an expenditure in one year. It's a capital item, and the only thing included in the expense column is the interest and a small percentage each year for depreciation.

The setting up as capital items of all federal property that could be some day sold and all federal loans to the public that are made by various government enterprises which in themselves produce income and are represented by assets is not a new idea.

The plan has been suggested many times before in academic groups but political folks are afraid of it—they fear the criticism from the opposite political party.

It so happens that Beardsley Ruml is a Democrat and in the last campaign was chairman of the Stevenson finance committee. He himself pooh-poos any political angle.

In a statement he has just made to the House Ways and Means Committee, Ruml said on that point:

"This change has been recommended for years by students, organizations, and government agencies—among them, the committee for economic development, the President's Council of Economic Advisors, and the 1949 Senate subcommittee on monetary and fiscal policy, headed by Sen. Douglas. The change has the support of persons in both parties."

The new Ruml plan for a capital budget follows a pattern that states and cities have established in recent years with their "bridge authorities" or "port authorities."

It is sound from a bookkeeping standpoint, and the only real opposition has come from those who fear they may be accused of "changing the books." That's why Ruml says:

"It will require real courage in the administration to recommend these long overdue changes in the statement of the federal budget."

"Not only will the inertia of tradition have to be overcome, but there will be an inevitable amount of cynical comment that the administration is attempting to balance the budget by definition."

Who will make such a cynical comment? The Democrats? Of course not, because they can get farther politically by defending the charge.

They could reconstruct their own budgets for the last 20 years under the capital plan and offset Republican criticism that they piled up deficits year after year. Many of the Democratic administration's deficits would be erased, too.

Business men, when they fully understood what has been done with the federal budget system in the past, would applaud the change.

Few persons realize that if the government buys a piece of real estate which is worth $100,000, and could bring that sum at a sale, the federal budget shows the $100,000 as an expense item in one year.

It's true that, if the property is sold some day, it is all counted as income but the difficulty is not with items of $100,000. It's with items running into the billions, such as the expenditures for plutonium and uranium—which is like buying gold because the materials are conserved for future use and for the most part are never destroyed. They are assets not like a piece of real estate.

There may be a real stimulus from the new system. It may make those who go to Congress to request capital spending show that their projects will be self-financing over a period of years.

This in itself would be a healthy turn. But the biggest advantage would be that all taxes could be reduced, because they would be confined hereafter only to a balance with actual expenditures on a current basis and would not be confused with capital investments.

And I Believe

By TRUMAN TWILL

In the absence of compelling reasons to believe otherwise, I shall go right on believing:

There is nothing which interests men less than the sight of women's knees, which are almost invariably misshapen and badly designed;

Nothing that happens in professional sports—none of the skill and none of the paid-for savagery—is a substitute for the awe-inspiring earnestness of school boys who want to win so bad they can taste it.

The telephone, in addition to being a blessing, is a curse on mankind laid there heavily by science and kept there firmly by the people who prize it as a way of horn-ing into lives which otherwise would be closed to them;

The annual hooraw over whether or not men should shed some of their summer clothing is a tempest in a Martini shaker compared with the really vital issue of whether or not men should wear stocking caps in winter;

The interior and exterior design of the modern automobile is about as pathetic as the design of the vermiform appendix, which happens to be the way it is because it got sidetracked in the master plan to make things the way they should be;

The perfidious splinter politics of New York City is the current most horrible example of what can happen when human beings are huddled into caves and mole runs where they ultimately lose all sense of balance and proportion;

The eventual solution to the problem created by mixing multiple-ton trucks and one-ton passenger cars on the same highways will be toll roads built for the mandatory use of the former by the trucking industry which then will be relieved of highway tax.

The fascination once exerted by pretty girls has been diminished by moving pictures and television, which exploit beauty as a commodity and thereby put a high premium on charm, the heaviest gun in the arsenal in the war between men and women;

Tens of thousands of public relations employees are boomdoggling a job which could be done better if simple candor were substituted for elaborate puffs and foxy approaches;

There never has been a fountain pen made which was worth the trouble of having to refill it when it got empty and likewise for cigarette lighters;

The presidency of the United States has been so twisted and distorted by the pressures exerted on it relentlessly that George Washington, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson and James Monroe would have been impeached;

Color television will be a big, fat disappointment to most viewers, because they will find they have gained color at the expense of clarity;

Some of the political indiscretions committed by some of the innovators who keep digging up youthful indiscretions of others in congressional hearings might be just as revealing and a darned sight more important;

Whatever a plumber is paid for lying on his back in a puddle of dirty water in an almost inaccessible place in the course of performing an almost impossible repair job without losing his temper is too little.

Hills Yet to Be Recovered

Break With Tradition

By NORMAN LINDHURST

A year ago—even six months ago—anyone seeking an interview with Theodore Blank inevitably was given a polite brushoff.

Blank was a mystery man, since, as the chief of Chancellor Adenauer's shadow Defense Ministry, he had the job of preventing the remnants of the old German General Staff from moving in on German rearmament and taking over.

The issue at stake: How "new" and how "democratic" was to be the new democratic German army.

This is the situation on Blank and his job: a former lieutenant in the German army, Blank made a record not as a military man but as a rough-and-tumble labor organizer in the Ruhr coal fields for the Weimar Republic's Christian trade unions. In fact, he was conscripted into the Wehrmacht and has never made any secret of the fact that, like most trade unionists, he distrusts the military.

When Adenauer tapped Blank for the ticklish task of rearming Germany, Blank was a member of the Bundestag, the German house of commons, representing the hard-boiled Ruhr constituency of Oberhausen. In fact, Blank still retains his parliamentary seat.

It was generally accepted that Blank was a "showcase" appointment. Adenauer's acknowledged motive was to pick a man apparently representing the antithesis of German militarism, and thus make the bitter pill of German remilitarization more palatable to her distrustful neighbors, particularly the French.

Blank's office is cramped, threadbare and overlooking a cheerless courtyard. The defense minister is short, hard and has a jutting jaw. He looks like he might have been a middleweight boxer, and he is as direct.

"You fire the questions, and I'll answer them. If I can't I'll send you to my experts who can," Blank said.

Blank is a man without ostentation.

Will the new German army be democratic?

"We are going to build a citizen's army which will represent a complete break with the old German militaristic tradition. Our officers and soldiers will wear civilian clothing off duty, and they will be permitted to vote and exercise all the other rights and duties of citizenship while serving their call-up period," Blank stated firmly.

When German rearmament was broached a few years ago, most Germans, it seemed, cried "ohne mich"—without me—to the proposal that Germany aid the West defend itself against Soviet aggression. Now?

"I have 75,000 applications for enlistment in the new German armed forces. Half the applications are from officers and non-commissioned officers of the former German armed forces, but the remainder are from German youth."

"You have my word for it 'ohne mich' is dead. The people have recovered their mental health. Some days I receive over 1,000 applications," Blank declares proudly.

Blank believes that the vast majority of Germans now accept without reservation the necessity for German participation in Western defense. He is not so naive, however, as to believe that volunteers will flock in without a little prodding.

Could Blank raise 500,000 men—the strength assigned Germany in the European Army Treaty—through volunteers alone?

"No, the birthrate makes that a statistical impossibility. The main reason we must have conscription, however, is to train reserves," Blank explained.

Blank needs the volunteers for "cadres," the skeleton forces on to which successive classes of conscripts will be grafted. These will be the new German army's core of professionals. Blank intends to sign up every qualified man he can get.

"When the ink is dry on the last document of the last nation ratifying the European Army Treaty,"

Blank grinned, "we are going to swing open the doors of recruiting stations in every city, town and village in Germany."

And the equipment—particularly the heavy equipment—for the new German army?

"There is no difficulty there. The United States will give us most of the tanks, jet aircraft and artillery we need. The light equipment, quartermaster supplies, vehicles and signal supplies, we shall produce ourselves. German industry is in good shape and can have the stuff running out of our ears in six months to a year," Blank said confidently.

The Germans are depending on Allied forces in Germany, particularly the British and Americans, to help whip the German units into shape. Blank explained:

"Our troops will work very closely with the British and American forces, particularly at the beginning. We shall be using Allied training areas and using British and American training equipment. The British and Americans will train our young pilots for jet aircraft, and the Luftwaffe pilots that enlist will be given refresher training at British and American airfields in Germany."

"Within one year after the first German troops begin training, our cadres will be ready, and within two years our 12 divisions will be completely trained and combat ready."

Blank disclosed that at least four of the 12 prospective German divisions will be stationed in the British Zone of Germany, where they will share British training fields and receive British training instruction.

How will the British and Americans take to their new German allies?

"We have every reason to believe that the relationship will be extremely cordial, and that we shall become true allies," Blank said.

"There will be the usual lapses from grace—a few brawls here and there—but nothing to worry anyone."

Income Programs Growing

More than $700 million of life insurance benefits will go under income plans rather than being paid out in lump sums this year, the Institute of Life Insurance estimates.

This is about 70 per cent more than was so used 10 years ago and nine times the amount set up under income plans 25 years ago.

"Income use of life insurance proceeds has been one of the important developments in this field during the past generation," the institute commented. "This concept of income use has done more to enable policyholders to set up orderly plans for their long-term family finances than almost any other element, and it has been a great aid in helping insurance agents set up complete life insurance programs for American families."

The institute points out that one of the greatest benefits of the income plan for policy settlement is that it pin-points the needs, and results in better meeting those needs through ample life insurance.

A generation ago, most policyholders thought of their life insurance in terms of the amount of total protection and, as that was usually a larger sum than they had in hand at any one time, they were inclined to regard themselves as amply insured. When translated in terms of the income that insurance would provide, the amount often was found to be inadequate.

The income use of life insurance was negligible as recently as 30 years ago. In 1920, less than $20 million of benefit payments was used to provide income.

In 1930, the total set aside for future income payments was only $90 million. Of the 1952 benefits, $690 million was used for settlement options. This represented about 29 per cent of total ordinary and group death benefits, matured endowments and policy cash-surrender values, the funds most likely to be set aside for income use.

Over the years, more than $6 billion has been accumulated by policyholders from policy proceeds for income use. Income payments will be made from these funds for many years in the future.

The most important point to be settled at the coming U. N. sessions on Korean peace is: "Who's counting at the knockdowns?"

Will color television provide the six shade electric icebox with the ice cubes in any color you wish?

Devastating classification: He's the kind of fellow who applauds commercials.

If Malenkov hasn't got the H-bomb it will go hard with the scientist who told him he had.

Fritzi Scheff, just reaching her 74th birthday, stole the show on TV the other evening. Once the top star of our musical comedy and light opera stage, she was called from the audience and sang "Kiss Me Again" in a manner that made plenty of the young singers seem amateurs.

Queen Mary left an estate of only $1,137,000. . . Being a king or queen these days is no longer being recommended as a paying career. . . You can do better in the luncheonette business.

Color TV will be okay up to the point where they let the boys put the credit lines in rainbow shades.

New York City's election campaign is off on such a whodunit note that it's a question whether the boys are trying to get into City Hall or into video. . . No matter which candidate has the best arguments, Bob Wagner, Jr., has the best scenario writers.

De Sapio, Tammany boss and Wagner backer, says he has been threatened with bodily violence by hoodlum elements.

Our inside informant says the leader has been shot at by four typewriters and a couple of press releases. What's happened to Tammany Hall when the man-eating tiger shows up with a bodyguard, a complaint of a threatening letter and a request that more aspirin and less meat be tossed him at feeding time?

We know that these video appearances would have a bad effect on politicians. . . Gotham voters, in considering any candidate, now ask: "What channel is he running on?"

It looks to us as if Mike Barnett or the "Racket Squad" sleuths might have to take over the New York Campaign. Harold Riegelman, Republican candidate, is in a bad way. . . He hasn't received an anonymous letter so far.

Reactions to Malenkov's H-bomb boast: England—"I don't see how he could have it yet. We haven't released enough spies to do the job."

India—"It could be true. On the other hand, it could be untrue. Either way we propose a neutral commission to investigate and report back to the commission in charge of commissions."

Spain—"You know our position—we remain neutral in the destruction of civilization."

France—"We are not concerned about the H-bomb. We can destroy ourselves without it, and are well on the way to doing so."

Uncle Sam—"My surprise is that Malenkov didn't claim Russia invented it."

There's a national convention of jewelers at the Waldorf Astoria, featuring a $2,000,000 "ice" exhibit. . . During the session a guest can wear a five-carat diamond and remain in a total eclipse.

Larry Storch is one of the most promising TV comics but a few sketches like that one about the senators and the boat ride can ruin him.

We know a parent who won't send his kid to public school kindergarten until there's a change in the situation which requires both the pupils and the teachers to carry switch knives.

Can you remember away back when putting a simple song across was a diversion, not a project?

Charles F. Kelley, alert and able Connecticut Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, has called the turn on that cockeyed New York legislation which, believe it or not, allows one auto to pass another ON THE RIGHT. . . More accidents are caused by this than anything else and from the day of the first horseless carriage it has been recognized as highly dangerous. . . Commissioner Kelley is standing for none of the nonsense and is cracking down on all New Yorkers who pass cars in Connecticut on any side except the safe side.

Maybe the movie industry would have done better in getting that tax cut if it had fired its lobbyists and let Marilyn Monroe make the pleas.

Ben Hogan visited President Eisenhower the other day and gave the President a few tips on golf.

To play as Ben does you have to have a lot of punishment and, after six months in the White House, Ike comes in this category. We presume Ben told Ike that he should be allowed to lift a ball out of an agenda without penalty and miss a tee shot during a Korean crisis without taking a stroke.

Maybe Ike's golf trouble is that he stands too close to his secretary of state, grips his fireside chats and fails to follow through on his budgets.

NO DOUBT who's the happy winner of the showmanship award in the diaper division of roller skating show held in Cleveland. Spangled champion is Rosalind Ramsey, 4, from Temple, Tex. Three-foot-tall Rosalind is twice size of trophy.

MOVING STOP SIGN is Peppy, a year-round resident of a cave in Jasper National Park in the Canadian Rockies. Peppy lurches forward to get some candy from the bus passengers.

WHEN THE TEMPERATURES start to wilt collars and fray nerves, many Canadians think back to last winter when such scenes as this one were common. It's an ice-clad train caught in a blizzard on one of the branch lines of Canadian railroad.

CLOSE TO THE SOVIET BORDER, West Berlin farmers plow their fields within viewing distance of hungry East Berliners whose starvation plight under Communist rule has forced them to enter the allied sector. Farmers are undisturbed by rattle of trolley car which passes their field at a point where the city and the farmland meet in the West Berlin zone.

IT'S TIME for a cooling shave, so Aero, a performing elephant at Atlantic City, N. J., circus gets a lathering from lovely Wilma Hegadus. Wonder if he wants a manicure too?

"OPEN YOUR MOUTH only to eat" seems to be the idea at restaurants and cafeterias in Pentagon in Washington. Joy Garcia, an employee, holds up napkin saying, "A safe can be locked, but only you can lock your lips. Don't discuss classified information in public." They're called "security napkins."

IT'S THE FASHION

FASHION DESIGNERS from all parts of Italy brought their latest creations to Florence recently for a display of their fall and winter lines. (1) This bathing suit by Val di Tovere is made of cotton with black bodice. Hat can be used as parasol. (2) Designer Venesiani features an evening gown of white silk satin with a rolling hemline of rose satin. (3) "Eskimo" is appropriate name of this winter outfit by Myricae. Coat and hood of heavy homespun wool are fur-lined. (4) Designer Glanz creates this many-colored corduroy skirt of yellow tones worn with solid silk blouse. Matching jacket can be paired with skirt. (5) Trousers and coat in coarse cotton with contrasting red trimmings are a creation of Di Tovere. Bonnet is worn with ensemble.

Tale Of Southwest To Play At State

"Ride, Vaquero!" M-G-M outdoor drama filmed in the new Anco Color and starring Robert Taylor, Ava Gardner and Howard Keel will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre.

Taylor follows his big hits in "Ivanhoe" and "Above and Beyond" with the role of a man brought up as the foster brother of a murderous bandit in the Texas cattle country in the period following the close of the Civil War. He is indifferent to the power-mad ambition of his foster brother to wipe out the incoming settlers until he falls under the spell of a girl who has been brought out West as the bride of a rancher who hopes to establish a cattle empire.

Ava Gardner enacts the bride, Howard Keel is seen as the husband who dreams of a cattle empire, and Anthony Quinn plays the vaquero bandit who holds the destiny of all four in his hands. Playing important supporting roles are Kurt Kasznar, as a courageous padre, Ted de Corsia, Charlita, Walter Baldwin and Jack Elam.

"Ride, Vaquero!" based on a screen play by Frank Fenlon, was filmed on location in Kanab, Utah. It was directed by John Farrow; produced by Stephen Ames.

Detroit Lions Soundly Whip College All-Stars, 24-10

Pro Champs Set Passing Record

Layne Completes 21 Out of 31 Attempts

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—It's just as well that most of the college All Stars move on today to join their respective pro teams now in training. They have a lot to learn.

They found that out last night when the Detroit Lions, one of the most determined pro teams in the series history, gave them a football lesson, 24-10.

The Lions left little doubt in the minds of 93,818 spectators at Soldier Field—biggest crowd since 1948—and uncountable TV-radio fans that they will be hard to stop from repeating for the National Football League crown this fall.

They sheared the All-Stars with the fanciest passing barrage ever seen in the rivalry, gaining a record 39 yards in the air. Bobby Layne, who was not supposed to be feeling up to par, personally contributed 323 yards by hitting on 21 of 31 tosses.

The Lions picked up 134 yards on the ground.

The All-Stars were virtually stymied, by comparison. With the Lions setting up a new defense with each new opposing quarterback, Jack Scarbath of Maryland (who will be with the Washington Redskins), Dale Samuels of Purdue (Chicago Cardinals), and Tommy O'Connell of Illinois (Chicago Bears) combined for a mere 80 passing yards.

They connected on only nine out of 27.

Meanwhile, Gib Dawson of Texas, Buck McPhall of Oklahoma and Don McLaughlin of Michigan State mustered most of the running power from scrimmage that totaled 107 yards.

Temper flared at times on both sides. End Earon Blaine of the Lions and tackle Gilbert Kline of the All-Stars were ejected from the game in the third period. They started swinging and had to be separated by teammates.

In the fourth Ed Bell, Pennsylvania's great end, and back Ollie Cline of Detroit went for each other but were quickly subdued and remained in the contest.

The Lions jumped into a 10-3 halftime lead, scoring a touchdown in his first period on an 80 yard thrust in 10 plays. Layne's toss to Hart, who lateralled to Walker, covered 47 yards and was the key play. "Boo Hoernschmeyer ploughed the last yard on fourth down."

Walker booted a 10-yard field goal in the second period and Dawson placekicked one for 30 yards for the All-Stars before the halftime gun.

The Lions struck for 74 yards in 7 plays in the third quarter with Layne spearing Cloyce Box for 53 yards and finally hitting him for the final 9 to score.

Detroit made it 24-3 out at the outset of the fourth, slamming 96 yards in 15 plays with Layne alternating on passes to Hart, Walker and Box. Hoernschmeyer barreled over from the two.

The All-Stars showed signs of life midway in the finale when Jim Sears of Southern California raced 73 yards on a punt return and Dawson sped 17 more to score.

FRIDAY'S STARS

Pitching—Billy Pierce, Chicago White Sox, ran his string of scoreless innings to 34 2-3 in winning his sixth shutout, his third straight, 7-6 over Detroit.

Batting—Luke Easter, Cleveland Indians, hit two home runs, each

Indians Squeeze By Browns 8-7

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Cleveland Indians found the going tough in beating the St. Louis Browns 8-7 last night.

The Tribe ran up a 5-0 margin, but the Browns came back to chase Bob Feller in the fifth and punch over three runs.

After running the margin up to 7-3, the Indians saw the Browns again come back with three runs and belt Bill Wright out of the box. Bob Lemon, although scheduled to pitch Sunday, then came in to put out the rally and notch his 16th victory of the season against 11 defeats.

George Strickland squeezed over the winning run in the ninth when he bunted safely with the bases loaded and one out. It gave the Indians an 8-6 edge and the best of the Browns could do in their half of the ninth was one run on Don Lenhardt's double and Vic Wertz's single.

Big guns in the Tribe attack were Luke Easter, with two home runs, and Al Rosen with his 29th four-bagger of the year. Rosen now is one ahead of his homer mark for all of last season, but two behind his 1950 pace when he led the league with 37.

Northern Ohio All-Stars Win

Heavier Line, Dawson Passes Whip South

By FRITZ HOWELL

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's up-state grid greats were only a game behind their southern foes today in the eight-year high school all-star football series.

The northerners were 18-7 victors here last night before 19,000 fans in Fawcett Stadium, biggest crowd ever to see the Buckeye classic.

The proteges of Coach Chuck Mather of Massillon, boasting a hefty weight edge and the state's No. 1 passer in Len Dawson of Alliance, blew the game wide open in the first three minutes.

The South received the opening kickoff, drew two five-yard penalties, and Sam Miller of New Philadelphia kicked from the seven. Willy Hernandez of Van Wert fumbled momentarily, but pulled a hidden handoff to Jim Roseboro of Ashland.

Aided by perfect blocking, the speedy Roseboro flashed 50 yards down the sideline to the South's five-yard line. Before Springfield Jim McDonald's kids could get their feet on the ground Roseboro knifed around left end for the game's first touchdown.

The Ashland flash went over again in the second session on a six-yard line smash to give the North a 12-0 edge. Mather's men made it 18-0 at the half with the game's picture play, completed after the gun sounded.

The South, with Middletown's Paul Johnson at quarterback, had moved from the Rebel 22 to the North's 29 for its first sustained drive, when George Kraft of Akron St. Mary intercepted a pass and ran to the North's 42.

Two seconds remained in the half as the ball was snapped to Dawson. He appeared trapped as he dropped back to pass, but he threw far down field. Jim Dick, speedy Lorain end, outraced the southern defenders, took the ball on the 20 and pranced into the end zone for a 58-yard scoring play.

The South dominated the half, McDonald's midgets holding the North to a 40-yard total gain in the last two quarters after he had shifted his defense to a 5-3 setup.

Johnson and end Ed Payne, Middletown teammates, accounted for the South's lone marker in the third session. Johnson hit Payne with a 19-yard pass, sent Springfield's Lee Williams around end for the game's best run from scrimmage—and then hit Payne with a six-yard touchdown toss.

Don Wright of Columbus East booted the extra point to end the scoring.

The North has won three, lost four and tied one of the all-star series. McDonald was the coach of two losing southern teams. Mather dropped the other for the Rebels.

Hubert Bobo of Chauncey-Dover, who set the state scoring record of 323 points last fall as a Class B player, and Carl Smith of Washington Court House, who set the Class A mark with 294 points, failed to sparkle on offense.

Bobo gained 24 yards in 7 attempts, and Smith went for 10 in 5 tries. Roseboro, who joins Bobo at Ohio State next month, paced the runners with 68 yards in 10 runs from scrimmage.

Dawson completed six of eight passes for 114 yards. He's going to Purdue.

Moritz Breaks 99 Of 100 Targets In Shoot

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The first marksman on the line at yesterday's opening round of the Grand American Trapshoot broke 9 of 10 targets from 21 yards and stood off all threats to win the handicap shoot.

He is Herman Moritz, a retired seed grower from Albany, Ore., who shot his first registered target only last February and who is on his first trip to the roaring grand at nearby Vandalia.

Seven shooters broke 10 consecutive targets to tie for first place in yesterday's 16-yard event and will shoot off for the title today. They are T. Clay Williams, Lexington, Ky.; Florian Polcyn of Gorham, Kan.; Cliff Doughman of Morrow, Ohio; Owen Stauffer of Trotwood; Arnold Rigger of Seattle; Maynard B. Henry of Los Angeles and H. R. Peterson of Dillon, Mont.

Redlegs Edge Cardinals, 2-1

Kluszewski Drives In 90th Run Of Season

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tomorrow is

Gus Bell day, tonight's ladies' night and last evening was Ted Kluszewski's.

The Virginia native drove in the first Redleg run and scored the winning run as Cincinnati edged St. Louis in a thrilling 2-1 battle that went 11 innings.

Big Klu clouted RBI No. 90 for the season. Both his hits in five official trips to the plate were doubles. Ted got on base in the 11th with his second and was put across the plate for the winning run by Roy McMillan's clutch single.

The Cards' lone run came in the fifth. Rookie Harry Elliott doubled down the left field line to open the inning. Hal Rice walked and pitched Wilmer Mizell singled to score Elliott.

Mizell and rival hurler Joe Nuxhall pitched brilliant, 11-inning ball. Each gave up seven hits.

Supporter Of Big Navy Carrier Forces Heads U. S. Military

WASHINGTON (AP) — The military team ordered by President Eisenhower to take a long, fresh look at the nation's defense needs gets its captain today.

At a Pentagon ceremony Gen. Omar N. Bradley swears in the new team, which will be headed by the retired admiral, Adm. Arthur Radford, who succeeds him as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

For Bradley, the events mark the end of a 42-year active Army career as well as a four-year term as first permanent chairman of the top professional planning group set up under the law unifying the armed services.

Another ceremony marks the changes of Army command when Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway succeeds Gen. J. Lawton Collins as chief of staff.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining took office six weeks ago as Air Force chief of staff, succeeding Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, retired.

The new team will be completed Monday when Adm. Robert B. Carney takes over from Adm. William F. Fechteler as chief of naval operations.

Radford is a protagonist of Navy carrier task forces who has said, however, that time has mellowed the strong views he held four years ago when he fought the Air Force's expanded B36 bomber program.

Ridgway comes to the chief of staff's desk after holding major operational commands—first of the 8th Army in Korea then of the Far East Air Force—and then serving as head of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces in Europe.

Gen. Bradley's staff said they farewells to the senior serving military officer yesterday and gave him a walking stick.

The veteran soldier plans to visit New York City next week to get the feel of his new job as board chairman of the Bulova Research and Development Corp. He will return to Washington with a few days to play in the Celebrities Open golf tournament. Thereafter he and Mrs. Bradley plan a leisurely motor trip to the West Coast, a month or two of vacation in Hawaii and finally househunting in California.

Bradley, technically still on duty as a five-star general will retain an office in the Pentagon.

Collins moves only a few hundred feet down a hall to the office of the U. S. member of the NATO military standing group.

Fechteler will leave by air Monday, soon after he is relieved, for his new headquarters in Naples as commander-in-chief of the NATO Southern European Command, the post recently vacated by Carney.

Fechteler told newsmen in an informal farewell session that he leaves Washington in the knowledge that the Navy is in good shape and that excellent progress had been achieved in the development of atomic power for ships.

BOLTS AFL. — Maurice A. Hutcheson (above), president of Brotherhood of Carpenters, sits in his hotel room in Chicago after the 822,000-member group severed connections with the American Federation of Labor. Action by other AFL leaders in okaying an agreement with the CIO to ban "raids" on rival union membership was given as the reason but Hutcheson said: "It's the climax of something that's been going on for a long time in the AFL." towing a skiff in which his coach rode, Sadlo took on honey and water from time to time and was last seen by the Coast Guard about 5:10 p.m. He then was east of Middle Island and only about 14 miles from Cedar Point.

Later, at 7:30 p.m., a private craft told Cedar Point authorities it had spotted the barrel-chested swimmer off Kelleys Island and only 11 miles from here.

But then a curtain of darkness came down and no further reports were received. Two Coast Guard ships and a speedboat from Cedar Point searched the area.

The Coast Guard said Sadlo appeared strong and swimming easily when it last observed him. The boat crew returned to its base for supper then and was unable to pick up his trail later.

Waves three-feet high churned up the lake early today and it was believed the swimmer might have been taken ashore for his own safety.

William Evans, Cedar Point publicist, said he expected to hear promptly from Sadlo's coach, Pat Rooney of Toronto, Ont., if they had given up.

On Aug. 3, when Sadlo made his first attempt at swimming across, he gave up after six hours. It was several hours later before Evans received word.

At least one other man has completed the swim across the lake. In 1923, Carbis Walker, of Cleveland, splashed from Point Pelee to Lorain, losing 20 of his 176 pounds on the trip. He got lost in a fog for awhile before finally dragging himself ashore.

GRASS FIRE HALTED
LISBON — A roadside grass fire apparently caused by a cigarette burned over one-quarter acre on Friday at 1:45 p.m. on Rt. 164 about 2½ miles north of here, firemen said. Firemen fought the flames for one-half hour.

Mother, 27, Held In Death Of Son

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — A 27-year-old mother was held for further questioning today in the death of her 5-year-old son last Friday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rhodeback was arrested yesterday after Dr. Joseph A. Greer, Fairfield County coroner, said the child was a victim of a homicidal attack. No charges were filed.

The child, Bryan, died several hours after his mother reported he was trampled by a heifer.

But an autopsy showed a number of scars on the boy's scalp and a healed broken left arm doctors believed had received no medical attention. Dr. Greer then asked an investigation.

The coroner's report said the boy died from a skull fracture and brain hemorrhage "as a result of repeated blows by a blunt instrument and during a homicidal attack."

RYAN'S REACTION. — Joseph P. Flash Flood Kills 146 In Japan

TOKYO (AP)—The third flash flood to hit Japan this summer killed at least 146 persons, injured 187 and left 26 missing today near the ancient Japanese capital of Kyoto, Japanese national police reported.

Incomplete reports to police said 680 houses were washed away.

More than half of Kyoto's southern suburb of Ide disappeared in raging floodwaters when swollen waters burst a dam east of the village. Police said the torrent washed away 730 homes in a flash.

A flash flood in the narrow mountain valley of Kizu washed away one half of the village early this morning, the officials said.

Japanese police said torrential rains started in the Kyoto area last night.

Police said at least 50 citizens of Ide, who were sleeping when the floodwaters surged down on them, were killed and 150 others were injured. The reservoir is about two miles east of the town.

Other casualties were reported from the nearby towns and villages.

Kyoto is about 700 citizens in flash floods last month. Three weeks earlier, another 700 people died in the floods of Kyushu, Japan's southernmost main island.

Compete In Dairy Judging Event Friday

Six Columbiana County 4-H Club members competed in a dairy judging contest Friday during Dairy Day at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster.

The group, making up two teams, accompanied by Harry Smith, associate county agent, competed against 4-H teams from 51 Ohio counties.

The first team was made up of Gail Holloway of RD Leetonia and Barbara Stanley and Carl Krahling of RD Beloit. The second team was composed of Leland Zurburg and Susan McCracken of RD Beloit and Billy Werner of RD 2, Salem.

Smith said the Columbiana teams made a favorable showing. The event was won by the Holmes County group with Mahoning County taking second place honors.

Many county farmers attended the event, Smith reported.

m.p.h. from Block Island to Provincetown were expected to diminish and north to northwest winds 15 to 25 m.p.h., were forecast north of Provincetown to Eastport.

The Coast Guard said early today it had received no reports of any damage nor any calls for assistance.

The hurricane, termed B-for-Barbara for the second letter of the alphabet, was the first to strike the coastal United States this year, although the second hurricane of the season. The first, A-for-Alice, blew itself out near the Gulf Coast.

The strong winds missed Long Island, N. Y.

New York Coast Guard headquarters, responsible for all Long Island, said it had no word of excessive damage and no immediate distress calls.

However, the Weather Bureau said the Nantucket and Cape Cod areas faced the possibility of a strong buffeting from the hurricane, which swung out to sea yesterday after sweeping a path of destruction over North Carolina and Virginia coastal areas. At least five persons were dead.

Indications were that the North-east, battered down for the worst, would get only a taste of the damage visited in the South and nothing like the hurricane disaster of 1938.

The Weather Bureau's advisory last night said the storm was moving at about 16 miles per hour and was expected near Nantucket, resort island off Massachusetts, at about 5 a.m. (EST).

Highest winds were estimated to be about 75 miles per hour over a very small area near the center, the advisory said, with gales extending outward about 200 miles.

Strongest winds on Long Island were reported at 40 miles per hour at Montauk, 125 miles from New York City on the eastern tip of Long Island. The Coast Guard said the center of the hurricane passed the island about 60 miles off shore.

About 1,000 persons had fled threatened Long Island coastal points, moving inland to friends' homes and hotels.

The hurricane, the first of the season and second of the year, caused at least five deaths and more than a million dollars damage. It flattened fields of crops in North Carolina, swept over the Virginia coast and out to sea.

Its fringes skirted the Maryland Delaware and New Jersey coasts, and an estimated 30,000 people evacuated the Ocean City area of Maryland. Atlantic City, N. J., received 7.29 inches of rain and strong gales. New York City felt the winds and rain at the edge of the blow.

Heavy seas and high winds disrupted shipping along the coast, briefly delaying the sailing from New York of the liner America and causing anxious moments for a number of other vessels.

Among deaths attributed to the storm were those of a man swept out to sea from a Wilmington, N.C., and of a Norfolk County, Va., policeman who touched a fallen live wire.

On Long Island, at Wading River, a man died of a heart attack while pulling a boat from the water after being alerted to the storm.

Driving rain accompanying the storm was blamed for fatal traffic accidents on the New Jersey Turnpike and in New York City.

For much of the areas already visited by the hurricane, the Weather Bureau today predicted fair skies.

Except in the storm area, no rain was reported across the nation early today although dry electrical storms hit the Dakotas. Temperatures in the northern half of the nation were in the 50s and 60s, with readings in the South reaching the 90s in some sections.
